DEPARTMENT

SERVICES

At garage, we take both the responsibility and the business of servicing our customers' cars very seriously. Auto Ranone offers our customers a wide range of services, but the price is definitely worth it!

MAINTENANCE OF MACHINERY

The car hood system is one of the important parts of protecting a car's underbody. Because the driver and passengers of a car will often be very vulnerable to accidents, this system is very important. In addition, in the conditions of heavy rain and heat, the car hood system will be constantly in contact with water, and may even be flooded in a long period of time. Furthermore, not regularly checking the car's hood system can lead to serious consequences. For example, long-term exposure to rain, heat, and dust, can damage the car hood system as well.

AIR CONDITIONER REPAIR SERVICE

Regularly servicing your car's engine is very important. A large number of problems can occur due to neglect of the engine, and regular servicing is essential. According to car manufacturers, it is advisable to service the engine every year or every 20,000 - 30,000km. Regular servicing will keep the engine running smoothly, efficiently and longer, preventing any premature wear and tear.

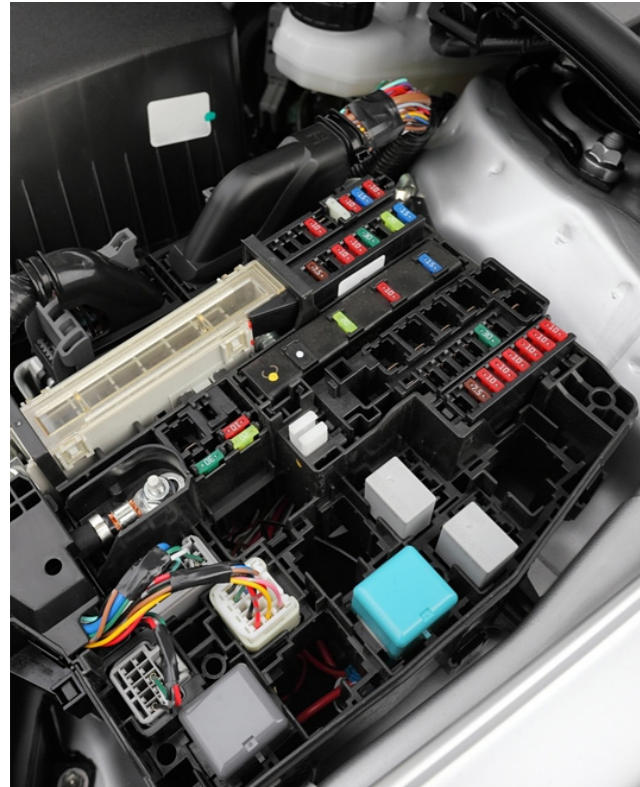

DIAGNOSIS OF ERROR

When you need to buy a car but are not comfortable with the quality or safety risks, using a car mechanic service can be a better option. The consequences can be much worse if you have to fix a car yourself and spend a lot of money on repairs. Fortunately, there is a service that can help you before you buy a car and that is Garage Auto RanOne. They will check the car for defects and give you a quote for the repairs. You can then decide whether to buy the car or not. It is always convenient to have this service when you buy a car.

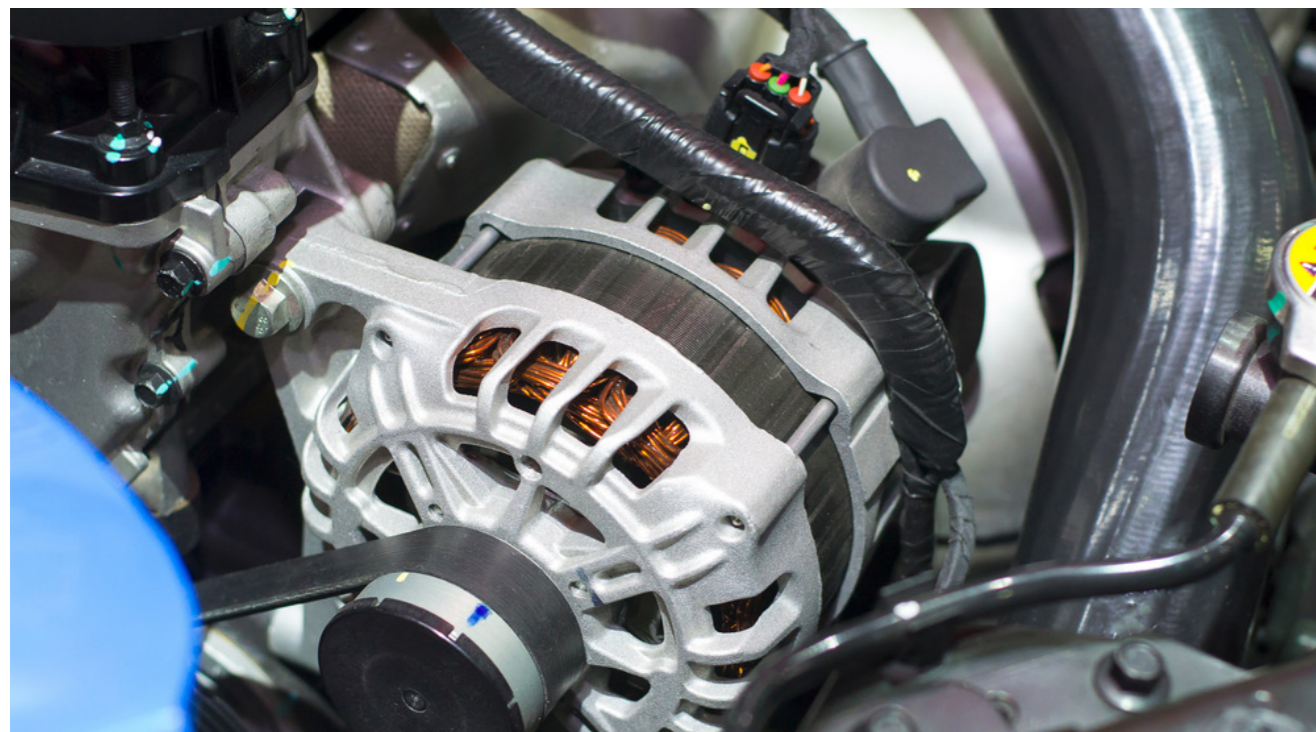

ELECTRICAL SYSTEM REPAIR

Saving a car's engine is seen as a modern mechanic's art, thanks to the advanced technology of today's engine repair. With today's technology, a car can be operated like a high-end computer, with a complex electrical system and volatile digital technology. Involved in every activity of the car.

A car is controlled by an electrical and electronic system with a variety of complex systems, including:

- » Starting system
- » Charging system
- » Engine control system
- » Lighting and signal system
- » Electrical accessories: power windows, windshield wipers, door locks, remote control
- » Air conditioning control system
- » Electronic brake control system
- » Electronic steering system
- » Engine immobilization and anti-theft system
- » Vehicle control system
- » Global Positioning System (GPS)

There are a few simple errors you can correct on the spot. However, for serious car problems that require professional mechanics, you always need a reliable address for your car. This is also a compliment to many customers who have experienced the services at Auto RanOne after trying out the car repair services at our garage.

DETAILING AND DECORATION

Including:

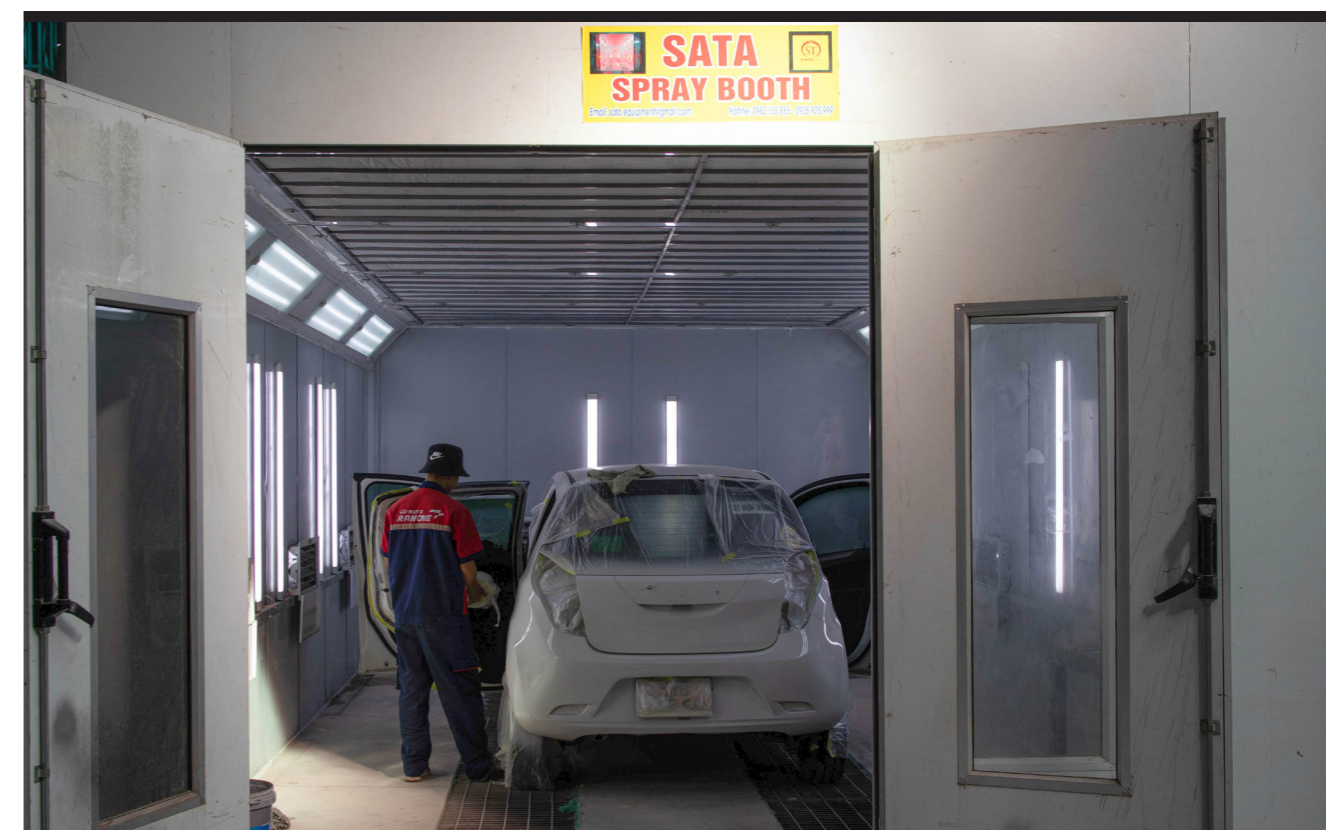

- » Premium car wash
- » Clean the engine
- » Interior cleaning
- » Apply window film
- » Fix surface defects
- » Apply coating/film for paint protection
- » Undercarriage cleaning
- » Wheel rim cleaning

Detailing your car is a much more important task than just cleaning it. In fact, it can include tasks like cleaning the inside of the car, fixing the engine, and even painting the car. After going through a series of professional cleaning tasks, your car will be in the same condition as when it was new. In fact, one car can even be detailed to increase its lifespan, protect the paint job, and protect other components.

REPAIRING THE PAINT

When using a car, it is important to avoid getting stuck in traffic, as the car may be jostled around. In addition, the effects of environmental factors can also cause the paint on the car to peel, crack, and... At that point, the user should take immediate action to repair the damage to the car so that it retains its appearance and quality. With cars that have been used, this technique is often chosen to repair damage to the paint on the body, such as traffic congestion, jostling, and dust.

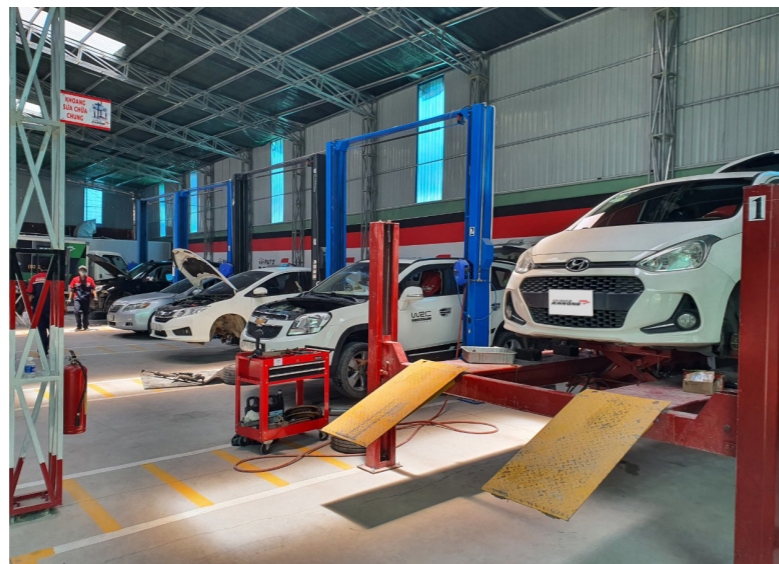

The technique of repairing the paint on an automobile includes two stages: repairing the damage caused by jostling, bumping, and dust, and then applying a new coat of paint to the car's surface. This process can be complicated and require specialized skills, so the time it takes to complete can range from a few hours to a month.

PERFORMANCE MAINTENANCE PACKAGES

We take care of, repair, and maintain all types of cars, including: Hatchbacks, Sedans, SUVs, Pickups...including all services:
